This track season was pretty cool. I started off the season breaking the record for pole vault. I'm told when I would start my vault, all other events came to a stop. When I landed I was tackled by coach Harrington. Lots of people thought it was cool and the best part about it was that only a small group of people knew how much I'd invested in that vault. Mr. Harrington was the one who assisted me from 9 feet to 14 feet 3 inches over the course of 3 years. That was probably one of the best memories of my track career. Oh, or that time when Freddy tried to wake up Starkey and ended up getting kicked in the chest. That was intense.

When I grow up and think back on high school I won't remember any specific classes, tests, or homework, but I will remember the things nearest to my heart. My track family being one of them. For some people it is hard to understand that track isn't just a sport. It is something that has shaped me to be the person I am today. I have so enjoyed getting to know my teammates over the years and they have become like sisters to me. I wouldn't trade my team, all of the blood, sweat, and tears for anything. Geneseo track will forever be in my heart.
