

Geneseo wins its own invitational, Trent Foltz ties 100 dash's mark

A forty-six year record was tied as the Leafs commanded their own track invitational on Friday, May 6.

Trent Foltz

Trent Foltz, a junior, clocked 10.94 during a semifinal heat of the 100-meter dash. He clocked a 10.96 to win the finals. Junior teammate Fred Little won both hurdle races in meet record time.

Foltz and Little headed a corps of underclass sprinters who led the Maple Leafs to victory in the 10-school meet. True to the pre-meet seedings, Geneseo won 10 of 13 races and outpointed Ottawa 136-103 for the title.

Nine-tenths of a second is deducted from 100-meter times to equate them with 100-yard dash times. Athletic officials decided some time ago that for record purposes, hundredths of a second up to four would be deducted, and five or more would be added on when deciding which tenth of a second to go down or up to.

Geneseo's coaching staff plans to place Foltz' name beside that of Roger McKeanie, who ran 10:9 over 100 yards in 1937.

Foltz had his feet in four victories. He won the open 200 in 23.65 and anchored winning 400 and 800-meter relay teams.

Foltz' best time in the 100 prior to Friday had been 11.31, but he put an 11.02 prelim clocking in front of his 10.95 and 10.94 efforts. Foltz indicated he'd like to turn in a 10.5 yet this spring — which would be a converted 9.9.

Little's meet records were a 15.08 cruise over the 110-meter highs, and a 39.88 effort in the 300-meter lows, where he came from behind to beat favored teammate Randy Clary (40.34) for only the second time in his life.

Clary got off to a blazing start in the lows, but had timing troubles down the stretch.

Geneseo won all five relays, with Todd Cahalan, Rich Willemkens, and Doug Emerick involved in three spring relay victories. Emerick, a sophomore, also clocked an 11.1 (converted 10.2) in the open 100.

Several other athletes turned in state-class performances in blasting meet records. Ottawa's Jeff Brodine won the 3,200 in 9:35.92, and the 1,600 in 4:23.72, which should put him among the state's top 10 in the metric mile.

Ottawa's Jay Hearn pole vaulted 14-6 which might put him among the top five in the state. And Kewanee's Steve Kuffel cleared 8-5½ in the high jump, beating Alleman's Mike Frederick (6-4) for the second time in a week. The state's best effort now is seven feet.

Alleman had a winner in discus thrower Brian Lingner, whose toss of 180-9½ was his season's best.

Geneseo senior Tim Rendian

Geneseo senior Tim Rendian ran 1:58 opening 800 on the Leaf 3,200-meter relay, then clocked 1:59.44 to win the open 800. He finished with a 51-
