

Comella hurdles into finals; Rocks have mixed day

Class A local participants earn berths in today's finals, D2

CHARLESTON — Moline's Matt Comella was agonizing over the lack of aesthetics in his 110 high and 300 intermediate hurdle races Friday at the IHSA Class AA Boys Track and Field Meet.

Class AA state track meet

"This was one of the ugliest days of my life," said Comella after clocking 14.78 and 38.91, the latter his best of the season in winning his heat.

But in Friday's qualifiers, beauty doesn't count. All that matters is advancing.

That's what Comella did in both of his races as did teammate Nate Medinger in his open 800 as the Maroons qualified for today's finals in three of their four chances Friday.

"Three of four, I'm not complaining," Moline coach Jeff Quick said.

The Rock Island Rocks qualified in four events — and also have junior Keith Moroni in the 3200 run — for today's 11 a.m. finals at Eastern Illinois University's O'Brien Field.

That was the good news from the Rock Island camp. The bad

Panthers will take state track over graduation

CHARLESTON — It may have been the easiest decisions of their young lives.

"I'd much rather be here running in front of 4,000 people than in front of 4,000 people at graduation," said United Township senior Amnon Paquette.

"All you're going to do is sit there anyway," added classmate Terry Westbrook, not too broken up over missing this afternoon's rescheduled graduation ceremony.

According to UT athletic director Jim Unrath, the concern over a conflict with Sunday's Colona Memorial Day Parade led to a parent survey which ultimately determined moving graduation from Sunday to Saturday.

The fact that their missing graduation means they've graduated in another sense: To today's finals of the Class AA Boys State Track and Field Meet.

Paquette and Westbrook teamed with fellow senior Steve Gates and junior Brian Taghon to qualify — barely — for the 4x800 relays final. They snuck into the 12-team field with a 7:56.75 clocking but will need some improvement to earn All-State honors that go with a top-nine finish, a time they trail by more 2 seconds.

Also battling in the finals for UT are a pair of junior jumpers. Rodney Blue is the high jump, passing once he reached the qualifying height of 6 feet, 4 inches. Triple-jumper R.J. Severtsgaard was the 12th and final qualifier with 43-11.

UT's three other relays (which were all on the track during the heaviest afternoon downpours) and senior James Hood in the long jump failed to advance. Three entrants scratched from their events to concentrate on the relays.

"The only thing I'd change was the weather," said a happy UT coach Mike Patterson.

new was the Rocks failed in eight events, including top-seeded pole vaulter Steve Burnett, who missed the opening height of 12-feet after clearing 14-7 last week.

"It was kind of a mixed bag," said Rocky coach Ed Lillis.

Along with York, Rocky had the second-most qualifiers (13).

"The pole vault is like the relays in that all the ingredients have to go together perfectly and that wasn't the case in every event. ... We were hoping to get a couple of more through, but they just weren't there."

In the events the Rocks made it, they are in decent shape. Senior Boomer Creger qualified third in a packed 800 field with a season-best 1:55.57 to win his heat.

Junior Maurice Jones is sixth in the 200 (seeded fourth after shutting down in his heat and still clocking 22.30). Senior Bryan Tyson is tied for ninth in the long jump (21-5). The 4x200 relay (Wayland Ryan, Tyson, Lawrence Davis and Jones) is fourth with a 1:28.88.

Jones, who looked good in miserable sprinting conditions of wind and rain, and Creger both have big goals for this afternoon.

"I'm satisfied," said Jones, who was a close miss in the open 100. "The 200 is my race and that's what I like to do. Hopefully, I come first, second or third."

As late as Thursday night, Creger contemplated scratching out of the 800 to concentrate on the 1600. Instead, now he says he's eyeing a 34-year-old record of 1:53.2 in the 800.

"I just want to go for that," said Creger, who later suffered back spasms during his wet 1600 run, but wasn't worried about those affecting today's race. "I know the guys will take it out fast, and I'll just have to stay with them."

Tyson, seeded 34th out of sectionals in the long jump, was a surprising bright spot for the Rocks as he advanced on his third and final jump.

Making the finals was even bigger for Moline's Comella. He's been nursing a tight quadricep for weeks and hasn't hurdled since last Friday's sectional.

Even so, Comella wasn't pleased with his rough runs.

"I like to hurdle every day and that makes me feel comfortable," said Comella. "I was really uncomfortable (Friday), but I should be OK. When it gets you to the state finals, I guess I should be happy."

The top nine finishers in track events get medals, yet Comella said that's not enough for him.

"I expect (his races) to be a lot cleaner," he said. "I was tearing it up (Friday) and trying to get back in the flow of things."

Ugly or not, it worked. He'll have the medals to prove it.

Two years, two seconds, too good

Rocky's Jones will keep this year's 200 runnerup medal

CHARLESTON — The final race of his junior season provided Rock Island's Maurice Jones with sweet retribution.

Class AA state track meet

The speedster was just barely nipped at the wire of the open 200 by Thornwood star Ron Mitchell, but it didn't matter. Jones was a happy man after finishing second in the 200 for the second straight year.

"This is great," said Jones. "Two years in a row, I can deal with that."

But this year's finish at the IHSA Class AA State Boys Track & Field Meet will eventually mean a whole lot more. He's going to keep this medal and not have to return it like last year when school officials realized he was ineligible when he competed at the state meet.

"It means a lot that I came back and did the same thing I did last year," said Jones. "I'm proud of myself and I feel more responsible and mature about stuff that I do."

The 200 silver was the second medal Jones walked off with Saturday. The 4x200 relay of freshman Waylond Ryan, sophomore Dillon Smith, senior Bryan Tyson and Jones finished sixth, giving Tyson a very nice 18th birthday present despite his disappointment of not placing in the long jump.

With junior Boomer Creger earning a bronze-medal finish, the Rocks finished seventh in the team race with 19 points. Behind Mitchell, South Holland Thornwood won the team title with 56 points, dethroning 2000 champ Elmhurst York by five points.

The only other local medals were brought home by Moline's Matt Comella. But he was not satisfied with a 7th-place finish in the 300 intermediate hurdles (39.24) or his 8th-place finish in the 110 highs (14.57). He left Eastern Illinois University hoping that his next four years on the O'Brien Stadium track are better than what was offered Saturday.

"My legs were just dead today," he said, noting he will sign a letter-of-intent with EIU this coming week. "It was kind of tough with coach Akers (Tom Akers, EIU's head coach) watching."

It was also tough for United Township's three entrants. The 4x800 relay of Terry Westbrook, Brian Taghon, Steve Gates and Ammon Paquette came in seeded 12th and finished 12th and out of the medals with an 8:10.79 clocking. Either nursing injuries or incurring them Saturday, UT jumpers Rodney Blue (high jump) and R.J. Severtsgaard (triple jump) failed to medal. Blue, who tweaked his back during Saturday's finals, only cleared 6-2 and tied for 12th in the 16-man field after having a great day of qualifying on Friday when he easily cleared 6-4. Severtsgaard, with a heel injury, was last in the 12-man finals with a best of 43-11.

"Stuff like that happens," said a dejected Blue, summing up the Panthers' day.

Moline's Nate Medinger didn't fare well either, finishing 12th in the 800 (1:58.06) while Creger was at the other end of the race, shocking himself with a third-place finish.

"Third is awesome," said the Rock senior, who had his sights set on the school record but knew that wasn't about to happen in gale-force winds that blew all day before the rains set in during the meet's final two events.

It was also an impressive finish considering he was thinking about scratching out of the event Thursday night and then suffering back spasms late Friday during 1600 qualifying.

"I woke up today and my legs felt funny, felt dead," said Creger, who took an ice bath Friday night to help the back. "I was a little nervous about how I'd do."

As it turned out, he did just fine, pushing Proviso East senior Gabriel Cruz to the wire and finishing with a solid 1:54.32 clocking.

"Third place in one of the better track meets in the USA isn't bad," said Creger.

Jones had no problem finishing second to Thornwood's Mitchell, one of the smoothest sprinters in the country. In fact, Jones, the lone non-senior in the 200 finals, led the wet race for the first 150 meters despite feeling his hamstring tighten in the curve.

"I'm thinking just keep running hard, keep running hard," said Jones. "I felt pretty good leading Mitchell because he's a pretty outstanding athlete. I thought he was going to blow it out."

Instead, it came down to a lean at the wire, which Mitchell took. They finished with times of 21.92 and 21.96, respectively.

"This is probably the toughest 200 I've had to run all year," said Mitchell, who also won the 100 and anchored the winning 4x100 relay. "Coming off the curve, I knew I had to push it. ... I saw Maurice Jones pick it up."

Jones was just trying to hold on despite being in a surprising position.

"I didn't think it was going to come down to something like this," said Jones of the lean. "He came back hard and strong and I appreciate that. He's a good contender."

On a windy day, that was a quality that carried a competitor quite a ways. It just wasn't a commodity the QC kids had totally stocked in their arsenals.
