Rock Island captures Kiwanis Relays

By Bill Barton
Staff sports writer

For the second consecutive weekend, weather was a major factor in a Quad-Cities high school track meet. And once again, it was Rock Island that made the best of the conditions, running away as the winner of the East Moline Kiwanis Relays.

Rocky finished with 307 points, United Township, the host school, scored 244 points and Moline was third with 192 points.

Last weekend at Moline's Shipley Invitational, a cold rain chilled competitors and slowed times. On Saturday, the weather was warm, but a ferocious wind proved to be a challenge.

"The midwest in April, you never know what type of weather you're going to get," said Moline coach Jeff Quick. "Even though it's windy, warmer weather is better. When it's cold, that's when kids get injured."

With the wind whipping into the competitors' faces on the track, race organizers adjusted the direction of the sprints, so that they were all run downwind.

The significant tailwind resulted in some very impressive times. Rocky freshman Wayland Ryan, who won the B 100, broke the B record, clocking 10.6 in the preliminaries. Ryan's time was .6 seconds faster than the previous best.

Ryan's teammate, Maurice Jones, ran a blistering 10.4 in the A 100. Jones time was a personal best and .1 faster than the meet record. Jones followed his 100 victory with a victory in the 200, running 21.8, .2 off of his personal best.

Much to the chagrin of the sprinters, race organizers decided not to count the sprint records because of the substantial tailwind.

"The wind was definitely over the legal limit," said UT coach Mike Patterson. "When you have a 40 mile-per-hour wind at your back, that's too much of an advantage. We're not going to count records in the 110 high hurdles, 100 or 200 as meet records, but that doesn't mean schools can't keep them as school records."

Distance runners didn't benefit from conditions like the sprinters.

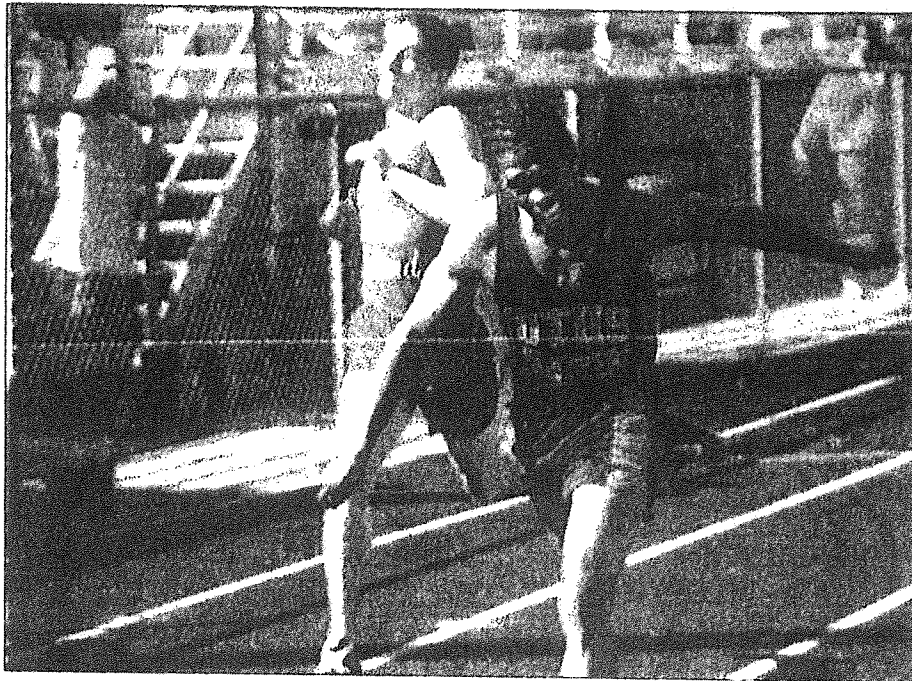

UT's Brian Taghon, who won the 3200 in 10:23, said that a sound race strategy was important in successfully coping with the wind.

"We were all trying to draft off of each other," said Taghon, who outkicked Rocky's Keith Maroni over the last 200. "Some of the laps were really hard. I got lucky timing my kick because the wind seemed to die down a little."

Moline's Nate Medinger, who finished second in the 1600 and 800 to Rock Island's Boomer Creger, thought he might have made a tactical error, trying to lead the race from the start.

"Dead legs," said Medinger, who ran 4:35 at a dual meet on Wednesday, but ran 4:46 Saturday. "I've been doing a lot of training the last week and I just felt like I couldn't move as well as I would have liked. And that wind didn't help at all."

Although plenty of competitors were focused on the conditions, the Rocks continued to pound out impressive results.

UT senior Terry Westbrook strains for the finish line at the Kiwanis Relays Saturday. Westbrook took first place in the 400 A, with a time of 51.2. Rocky's Dillon Smith finished second, clocking 51.5.

"Our three-quarter miles all set personal bests, our 800 runner broke two minutes for the first time this season and we had kids set personal bests in the shot and discus," said Rock Island assistant Pharaoh Gay, who was filling in for head coach Ed Lillis. Lillis was attending a wedding.

Quick offered his assessment.

"Rock Island's got all the horses," said Quick. "So it doesn't really matter what the conditions are."
