RI starts state track meet with freaky Friday

CHARLESTON — Just one word was enough to describe Rock Island's first day at the IHSA Class AA boys' state track and field meet at O'Brien Stadium on the Eastern Illinois University campus.

Huh?

The day just kept getting stranger and stranger for the Rocks, who had both some pretty good highs to go with the lowest of lows on a freaky Friday that no Hollywood scriptwriter would dare touch. Even the Rocks' "Minister of Hope," senior weight thrower Eddie Williams was taken aback by it all.

"We're not broken, but the day took its toll on all of us. We don't have that extra pep in our step," Williams said. "We had some adversity, we were handed some setbacks. You never know what will happen. It's going to be an emotional day (today). But I've got a good feeling about it."

Consider the following:

► Rocky's 800-meter relay team, fresh off a solid heat win and eventual top-four time as a group

during the 400 relay event, was scratched, even though members of the relay team were in place and ready to go before the second call of the event. Coach Ed Lillis protested with IHSA officials, but to no avail.

"They got there by the second call," Lillis said. "But once the official left the tent, they were scratched. They were there, but he didn't see them. He walked out of the tent, and it was over."

That effectively ended any hopes the Rocks had of duplicating last year's second-place finish.

"Everybody makes mistakes; we're just going to blame ourselves," senior KC Martin said. "I guess being who we are, you either like us or you don't. But everybody was there ready to run."

► Despite not seeming to find the Rocks' relay team just a few minutes earlier, officials in the staging tent made several calls — possibly 10 or more — looking for senior Lawrence Davis, who had decided to scratch the 400 in order to focus on the relay events.

► Then, in the 1,600 relay, Rock Island's third leg, Torian Farrar, tool an elbow to the left eye from a Thornwood runner while trying to pass. He recovered nicely enough so that the flagrant foul wasn't a factor in the Rocks' qualifying status.

"We were disappointed, but everybody did what they could," said Davis. "You can't fault the effort. It just wasn't our day."

But Rock Island could point to its 400 relay, which looked solid all the way around in beating Thornwood during its heat race, and to two finals-qualifying throws in the shot and discus from Williams, for today's finals efforts.

Williams enters today's action sixth in the discus and eighth in the shot. His best discus toss tied his sectional effort of 166-11, several feet short of his season-best.

"Not bad, but not that impressive, either," Williams said of his day. "At conference I threw 177 in the discus, so there's more there."

The only other metro Class AA team to qualify an entrant for finals was Moline, as Erik Steffens finished fourth in his heat and 11th overall in the 1,600. His time of 4:23.06 was a season-best in a race that he thought was pretty slow at the time.

Mike Verre was three seconds short of qualifying for finals in the 800, and teammate Aaron Cook — still trying to round into shape after a mid-season leg injury — also failed to qualify in both the 110 and 300 hurdles events.

"My conditioning wasn't there. I tried to put it into second gear and I couldn't go anywhere," Cook said.

Geneseo's Justin Trujillo got another look at the track he'll soon be running on as a member of the EIU track team, although he missed qualifying by nearly a second in the 800 and Geneseo's 1,600 relay team was two seconds short of qualifying.

United Township's Jon Hood missed by the narrowest of margins — just .01 seconds — in the 100-meter dash after running a strong heat race in which he was right with the leaders.

Trujillo has a strong finishing kick

Geneseo senior Justin Trujillo has a great finishing kick, great enough to land the ultimate prize for any high school track and field runner — regardless of how he does at today's Class AA Rock Island Sectional.

Trujillo has a Division I scholarship offer to attend Eastern Illinois University, where he plans to major in physical education. In addition to a partial track scholarship, he's also won the Cornbelt Running Club's Nancy Kapheim Memorial scholarship, so named in honor of the club's founder, who passed away last year.

"It's based not just on how fast you are at running, but how committed you are to the ideals of running," Trujillo's cross country coach, Don Fredericks, said. "Plans can change, but he hopes to go into teaching and coaching track and cross country."

He'll run track and cross country at the Charleston school, so he'll get very familiar with the stadium in which he hopes to compete next weekend — O'Brien Stadium on the Eastern Illinois campus and site of the Class AA state boys' track and field meet.

Trujillo

"His upside is huge," Fredericks said. "He has a tremendous gift. It's been a real pleasure to watch him grow and mature over the years. I'm excited for what will happen to him when he takes the next step (at the Division I level)."

This track season, Trujillo's harnessed more of his sprinter speed, running quality times in both the 400 and 800 meter middle-distance runs. Trujillo is best known for his amazing kicks down the final 100 to 200 meters.

"He's shown some great leg speed, even going down to run 200s for us," track coach Mel Snook said. "There's just so much untapped potential with that kid. He makes everything just look effortless."

► Class AA boys state track preview

► When and where: This week-end at O'Brien Stadium in Charleston.

► Directions: Take I-74 east-bound (bypass Peoria using I-474 east) to I-57 southbound near Champaign. Pick up I-57 to Exit 190 at Mattoon, then turn left (east) on Route 16 and follow five miles into Charleston. Turn right from 16 on Division and follow to the stadium.

► At stake: State championships in 19 events.

► Friday's action: Field event preliminaries begin at 9 a.m. (all times approximate) in the pole vault, high jump, shot put and long jump, with the discus and triple jump starting at 10:30. Track preliminaries begin at 9. For field events, top 12 competitors advance to Saturday's final. For track events, the heat winners plus the next fastest runners, based on time, up to nine per event qualify for finals.

► Saturday: Finals in the pole vault, shot and long jump start at 11 a.m., with the high jump starting at 1 p.m. and the triple jump and discus throw at 1:15.

► Relays: As mentioned last week, it's difficult to predict how relays will go, but Rock Island should be strong in both the 400 and 800 relays. The Rocks don't have any sprinters in the individual events, so it could help their relay times. Don't be surprised to see Rock Island in the top five in both. Galesburg, too, could be strong in the 800 relay. Geneseo and Rock Island both qualified in the 1,600 relay, but either team will have to find a couple more seconds to make finals. Amazingly, United Township is only 16th in the 3,200 relay after breaking eight minutes, but only a few tenths out of qualifying for finals, and it could happen for them with a good race on Friday.

Leaf track ends season at State

The Geneseo boys track season officially came to an end last weekend as five Maple Leafs competed in the State track and field meet in Charleston.

Though the Leafs were not able to advance anyone to the second day of competition, all five performed very well.

In the 1600m relay, the team of Justin Trujillo, Luke Reschke, Shaun Russell and Curt Russell combined to run a very quick 3:23.46.

Trujillo ran a 51.42 split, Reschke ran a 51.12. Shaun Russell handed the baton off at 51.21 and Curt Russell crossed the finish line at 49.57.

In the 800m run, Trujillo just missed a spot in the finals with a 1:57.70.

Byron Stanley also just missed an appearance in Saturday's competition in the high jump. Stanley cleared 6'2" in his preliminary flight.

Last week, at the boys track awards banquet, many Maple Leafs were recognized for their hard work and dedication to the team.

Scott Mapes was named the MVP of the weight events. Mapes was the top thrower on the team this season.

The distance MVP was Trujillo. He was a threat to win any distance event on any night.

Josh Forbes was the team's hurdles MVP. Forbes narrowly missed a trip to the State meet, but took first overall in several meets this year.

The MVP of both the jumping events and the sprints was Curt Russell. Russell could be counted on to score points for his team in the high jump, long jump and any of the sprints he entered.

Kevin Powell and Byron Stanley were named Most Improved, while Blake Widick, Trujillo and Curt Russell were named Most Inspirational.

Shaun Russell, Reschke, Trujillo and Curt Russell were all inducted into the 100 point club as well.

Mapes, Trujillo and Curt Russell were named the 2004 captains with Russell being named the team MVP.

'Spoiled' Rocks relay racers finish short of own expectations at state meet

CHARLESTON — In just 42 seconds and change, it was over. And it left four Rock Island seniors wanting another chance, this time in a good way.

"Let's do it again," senior KC Martin said to his relay mates after the team of Waylond Ryan, Martin, Lawrence Davis and Derrick Partman finished fourth in the finals of the 400 relay Saturday afternoon at the IHSA Class AA boys' state track and field meet.

"It always feels good to get a medal, especially after being DQ'd (scratched, on Friday before the running of the 800 relay)," Davis said. "You feel like you should be there, because nobody beat you. If we could've been a little closer to East St. Louis (in lane assignments) we could've hung with them. They ran great today, but we could get them."

The relay finish helped the Rocks finish with 10 points, top among area teams, and good for a tie for 27th place overall, a finish that is well below typical Rock Island expectations, but a finish many teams might take right now.

"We're spoiled. Getting to finals in three events, other teams would go through the roof," senior Eddie Williams, who also closed his high school track and field career with medals in the shot and discus, said. "We had a lot of potential, though, but things didn't happen for us. It'll be heartbreaking for some of us to see what made it here."

just about could have, although anchor Partman wasn't happy with his leg, despite the fact that first and second places were already pretty much out of reach. "I felt like I let my team down," Partman, who was out for track for the first time in his senior year, said. "I was very anxious, very tense."

Rocky's handoffs all were solid, with an exceptional turn between Martin and Davis to start the third leg. "To be the first 4x1 since I've been here actually do something makes it a good experience for me," Martin said. "Me and Lawrence, we've been together a long time and we know exactly what the other one's going to do. He's dependable, and he knows I'm dependable."

The medal finish also finished a storied career that came just short of a title for Ryan, who looked a lot more comfortable with his hamstring as opposed to previous weekends. "This was one of the best (leadoff) legs of the year. I felt good," Ryan said of his leadoff leg. He'll try to qualify for nationals at a meet in Bettendorf in two weeks.

Williams couldn't better either his shot or discus throw from Friday and found himself slipping one notch in both events for his eventual medal finishes, but he was happy to hear his name called twice over the public address system for medals, something no other metro athlete could say.

"Getting a ninth and seventh after not standing on the podium at all, that's an achievement," Williams said. "I felt like I threw well in the disc, but the wind affected me. It took several feet off each throw, but everybody had that happen, so I can't complain about that. Everything happens for a reason."

All season, Moline senior Erik Steffens saw himself qualifying for state in the 1,600 and earning a medal. Saturday, he made that happen in a competitive final race. He was up as far as third and as far back as last before putting things together in the final 400 meters to finish eighth.

The pace was slow until eventual race-winner Matt Withrow of Tinley Park Andrew made his move in the final 300-odd meters. When he went, Steffens did, too, only from the back of the pack.

"With 600 to go, I still thought I could do it. I had focused myself on winning all along, but it was such a boxed-in race," Steffens said. "I wanted a fast race and they didn't give it to me."

Likewise, Alleman junior Nathaniel Hird picked up an eighth-place finish in a distance event, although Hird's came in the 3,200 Class A final.

"I tried to stay back in the first mile and have a strong second one, and for the most part it worked. I'm not disappointed at all," Hird said of his finish. "I could have run with the first pack (earlier in the race), but who knows how I'd finish?"

Instead, Hird — who ran in the faster of two 3,200 sections — hung back, showing a solid kick that allowed him to hold onto an all-state finish.

"That's always been a problem for me, to be more consistent with my kick, but I've been doing work that's helped me with my last 400," Hird said. "If I can stick with the first pack and still have enough left, that's what I'm going to need so I can hopefully win a state title (next year)."
