The eyes have it with Gomez

By KEITH BRAKE
Dispatch correspondent

GENESEO — Priscilla Gomez is quiet around most people — but her eyes talk, and they can say plenty.

Geneseo cross country coach Don Fredericks says he's never seen a question mark in those eyes.

But last Saturday at the 33-team Sterling Invitational, he got close enough to see exclamation points.

Fredericks likes to position himself about a quarter-mile from the finish of a race, and after leading a 23-runner field most of the way, Gomez was passed at that point by the lead runner from Elmhurst York, the state's best team.

"PRISCILLA WAS ABOUT 10 yards back when she went by. I looked into her eyes, and she was gone. Physically," said Fredericks.

But not mentally. And as Fredericks himself says: "Distance running is 70 to 80 per cent mental."

Gomez hit her afterburners, and hit the finish chute. In first place. Again.

For her efforts, Gomez hit the chute first in this week's race for Dispatch Pacesetter.

Gomez was second to Kewanee's Amy Reedy in the season-opening meet at Canton, and to Alleman's Colleen Dank in the Maple Leafs' third meet of the season. She has beaten those two — and everyone else — every time out since then, claiming major invitationals at Homewood-Flossmoor, Dixon, Geneseo, Rockford and Sterling. She has beaten some of the best runners in Illinois and Iowa.

"I have a lot more confidence now," said Gomez, a petite, outwardly shy senior. "People tell me, 'You can be state champ. You have to face reality.' Well, I'm still trying to face it."

Gomez prefers to set her own standards. They are at once modest and demanding.

The state meet is about a month away, and Priscilla says she'd like to finish among the first 25, which would earn her the all-state medal her 26th-place finish just missed getting for her last year.

THAT SEEMS MODEST. The demanding part: "I just want to run the best I can." There's a very large talent residing in her very small body.

Priscilla said she discovered she liked to run, "in elementary school, when we ran 600 yards for time. Then in junior high, I ran in the Jaycees' sports jamborees. I liked competing."

In eighth grade, Gomez covered 1,600 meters in 5:25, and that won her a state championship. "There wasn't much improvement my freshman year, but my sophomore year, Jeff Quick started coaching us (girls) and Amy Alexander and I practiced with the boys."

Gomez was 40th in the state cross country meet her sophomore year, and in track won the varsity 1,600 and 3,200 meter runs in the NCIC meet, breaking school records in both events.

After placing 26th in cross country last fall, Priscilla doubled again in the conference meet, then turned a 10:55 to take seventh in the 3,200 race at the state track meet.

"My goals last year were for a 5:16 mile (she ran a 5:14 best), and an 11:10 two-mile," said Gomez.

Gomez said she had some adjustments to make when Quick left the Geneseo program to coach at Moline. She said Fredericks' practice regimen is different, but she's careful not to compare the men, and she expressed appreciation for the efforts of both.

Priscilla said she hopes to run in college, "but I don't know where." Her favorite subjects are "business classes, involving secretarial skills."

SHE SAYS SHE LISTENS to music, writes letters to friends, especially to best pal Alexander, who's a college freshman, "and I've just finished covering one wall in my room with pictures of runners. Her favorite: Mary Decker.

Gomez' advice to aspiring runners: "Achieve what you want to achieve, not what others want you to achieve. Have confidence in yourself."

Her admonition to those around her: "Have confidence in me."

"I've felt some pressure to run during the summer. I've done a few road races, but I've run a lot for the school, and I haven't felt it was necessary to run in the summer."

"I don't like hard workouts, but I try to work hard. I know they help me."

And it's during practice when Fredericks says he never sees question marks in Priscilla's eyes. "She's the most coachable athlete I've had, and I've had some good people," he said.

Gomez knows her capabilities — humum, maybe. She is a competitor. "I know before a race how fast other people have gone, and how fast I have gone. I try not to think about winning."

"I want to beat the other runners, yes, but I still want to be their friend," says Gomez. "After all, we share the same interest."

Ah, but the race is the thing. And after one begins, Priscilla's soft eyes harden and focus on the task at hand. She wants to win. Her eyes say so. Exclamation point!

Others considered for this week's Pacesetter are:

- United Township's Brian Gonzales, who rushed for over 180 yards and three TDs on just 11 carries in UT's 42-26 win over Rock Island.

- Rock Island's Brian Pearson who shot a 74 last week to lead the Rocks to the regional title.

- Cambridge's Mishelle Reed who shot an 85 at the girls golf regional at Golfmoor to earn medalists honors.

Harriers heavily favored to win conference titles

Geneseo's varsity harriers, both boys' and girls' teams, are heavily favored to win the conference cross country meet at Sterling on Saturday, October 19.

Geneseo's Priscilla Gomez is favored to win the individual title at the meet.

The frosh-soph team is considered third among N.C.I.C. teams. The fierce battle for first place will be fought between Geneseo, LaSalle-Peru and Ottawa. "If the Leaflets run hard and determined they may be rewarded for their efforts with a first place, which is very possible," remarked Head Coach Don Fredericks.

"If everything goes well on all three levels, Geneseo could do something that has never been done before: win on all three levels in the N.C.I.C." continued Coach Fredericks. It is a very possible fact. "It is not out of our reach."

Geneseo missed this goal last year by 2 points because of the way of the scoring.

Priscilla Gomez finished first in the Sterling Invitational cross country meet on Saturday, October 12 while her Geneseo team finished sixth.

Coach Don Fredericks didn't run Lorri DeBlieck and Gail Perkins because of illness and injury so the Lady Leafs were not at full-strength, explaining their lower finish. Both will run at conference.

York won the meet with 38 points, 70 points ahead of second place Conant. York is ranked first in the state.

John Huyvaert's 19th place was the highest finish for the seventh place Geneseo boys' cross country team at the Saturday, October 12 Sterling Invitational.

Geneseo's frosh-soph boys finished eighth (257 points) behind sixth place Ottawa (244 points) and seventh place LaSalle-Peru (245 points). Both are conference schools. Schaumburg won with 29 points. Leaflet Brad Baker was 21st while Mike Haars was 31st and Tim Moran in 39th.
