Geneseo cross country had a successful week at Richmond Hill on their home course, with first-place victories in a quad meet and an overall third-place finish in the Geneseo Invite.

Geneseo Quad and Triangular Meet

Rachel Wyffels and Dan Chenoweth led the girls' and boys' teams to victory, placing first in their respective races, Monday, Sept. 19 as Geneseo hosted Rock Falls, Princeton and Mendota at Richmond Hill.

"Racing twice in three days is not the perfect equation and it was a tough assignment," Head Coach Don Fredericks said. "The kids are a little beat up right now, but there were a lot of tough efforts and real strong races."

Wyffels led the girls' open race, taking the tape in 20 minutes and five seconds. Chenoweth paced the boys' race with a 16:32 first-place finish.

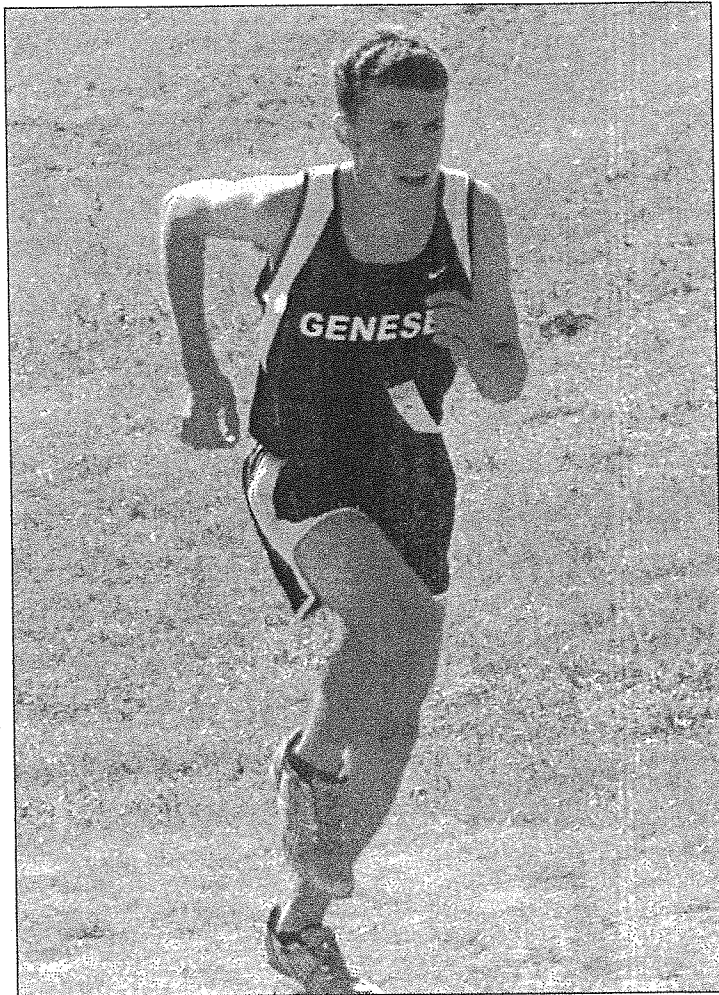

The girls' team took first place in the meet with 21 team points, followed by Rock Falls in second with 38 points and Mendota, third, with 81 points. The boys' team also claimed first place with 35 points, followed by Princeton with 49, Rock Falls, 62 and Mendota, 74.

The Lady Leaf squad had six runners place in the top ten in Monday's race. Wyffels claimed first followed by Ruthie Lile in third with a time of 20:57 and Eliza Cropp in fourth with a final time of 21:10. In sixth place was Stephanie Kennett with a time of 22:29, Sally Collis in seventh with a time of 22:55 and Abby Winberry in eighth in 23:05.

Kate Langdon finished 11th out of 38 runners with a time of 23:51, while teammates Rachel Atwell raced to a 13th-place finish with a time of 24:28 and Nicole Carton took 15th place in 25:07.

Rocky runners celebrate at Geneseo invite

By Shannon Heaton

GENESEO — Just a few minutes after the conclusion of racing at Richmond Hill Park in the Geneseo Invitational cross country meet, the Rock Island boys and girls teams engaged in another bitter struggle.

The second exam wasn't nearly as serious but still tested the Rocks' physical and emotional wills as much as running up and down the draws and hills at the park. It involved the unraveling of human knots — as the two groups of runners began in circles, with arms interlocked in various contortions — in the shortest amount of time.

Both sides wound up claiming one victory, which foreshadowed RI's team effort in the meet, as the combined running might of the boys and girls teams was enough to outpoint seven other schools and claim first place in overall competition. The whimsical Rocks finished with 538 points, 118 ahead of runnerup Sterling.

"That is so exciting and it's so much fun," said RI coach Michelle Lillis, watching her brood of 40-plus runners, boy and girl alike, jumping up and down in celebration of the combined team win. "But that's how they are every day. They constantly help each other every day.

"And we did this (today) without any senior girls running in the lineup."

Rock Island's strong boys team, which won the boys combined title, was the biggest reason behind the Rocks taking first in the overall combined. Rocky runners took firsts in three of the four races contested, with Austin Green winning the senior division, Scott Sparkman the sophomore division and Travis Anderson the freshman division.

"It was kind of nice to see our freshmen and sophomores win each of these races, and our (top) junior took second, so it was basically almost a sweep," Green said. "Everything's kind of come together nicely. We didn't lose any seniors (after last year) and the juniors stepped up."

Green won in a time of 16 minutes, 20.80 seconds, a run he felt just OK about.

"I won't get the same time again, so I'm fine with it," he said, alone ahead most of the way en route to a 24-second victory. "It's hard when people aren't in front of you."

The girls division was competitive, with just 34 points — coming from four class races — separating runnerup Dixon from sixth-place Rockford Lutheran, all trailing powerhouse Sterling. Rock Island was fourth, just four points behind third-place United Township.

"This is the only time that every athlete runs against only athletes their own age. Throw in the hills, and there's a lot of good things going on here," said Maple Leaf coach Don Fredericks, whose Leafs were fifth in the girls combined, second in the boys combined and third overall.

"In Rock Island, UT and Sterling, you've got some real high-quality teams. I think a lot of these runners will advance to sectional, and I even see many of those getting to the state finals. That's my prediction."

Three Leaf girls won their flight races, as senior Rachel Wyffels, sophomore Eliza Cropp and freshman Ruthie Lile all took firsts.

"Last week, I didn't have a good race, I just wasn't feeling too good. All I wanted was to improve from that, really," said Wyffels, who ran an impressive 19:52.87 Saturday on one of the hilliest courses in the area. "It was really fun to see (Lile and Cropp win). It will give them more confidence when we come back together."

The junior division was the only race that didn't fit the Rocky boy-Leaf girl winning pattern, as Geneseo's Dan Chenoweth and Dixon's Katie Gillespie both were victorious.
