Coming into this cross country season, there were high expectations for our team. We had a small army of insanely talented freshmen joining our already jacked team, and they really made all of us train harder. The dynamic of the team this year was different from years past, everyone was so focused when they needed to be and yet ready to have fun whenever the opportunity presented itself. We were like one big, perfectly dysfunctional family and we pushed each other to make this season count. The season itself was phenomenal. We placed third at sectionals, with the entire girls team advancing on to state. It was amazing to watch all the girls race not for themselves, but for each other. That's a tradition I know will live on in sport long after we've run our last race.

Dani Manna

The season was a great experience for both teams. Both of them had their ups and downs, but what made this team special was that when someone was down everyone was there to cheer them up. We all bonded together well by playing games during practice, cheering each other on during workouts and meets, and just talking and having a good time with everyone. When championship meet season rolled around everyone continued to work hard and get better. This led us to achieve many of the goals we set for ourselves. A mix of the teams determination and care for one another is what led us to have a successful season. I hope the friendships we made this season last for many years to come.
